I.

ALMACK'S. A Novel.

SECOND EDITION.—3 vols. post 8vo. 1*l.* 11s. 6d.

"These volumes present, perhaps, the best picture of the gayest fashionable life that has ever issued from the press."—Literary Gazette.

"It seems to have been the sole object of the writer to give a natural representation of the manners, the conversations, and, in short, the every day employments of the aristocratic circles; and she has succeeded to the fullest extent. We look upon 'ALMACK'S as one of the most delightful Novels in our language."—"The value of a work of this kind is inestimable."—Monthly Review.

II.

In 3 vols. post 8vo.

HISTORIETTES; or, TALES OF CONTINENTAL LIFE.

Containing—The Regicide's Family—A Week at Tours—The Fall of Berne, &c. By the Author of "THE ENGLISH IN ITALY."

III.

In 3 vols. post 8vo. price 30s.

ALLA GIORNATA; or, To THE DAY, a Novel.

"There is much, very much, that distinguishes these volumes from their competitors. The interest is well sustained, and the language elegant; and sketches of charming description, and observations, whose truth and beauty must be felt by all, are scattered like flowers over the pages. The book deserves not only to be read, as it will be, but to take a place for future enjoyment on the shelf with those novels which are preserved from the hasty oblivion that closes over so many of their race."—Literary Gazette.

IV.

In 3 vols. post 8vo. price 30s.

THE ENGLISH IN ITALY.

"We have been greatly delighted in the perusal of "The English in Italy;" it contains so much truth and sterling sentiment, delivered in a style so unostentatious, though superior, as at once to account for the extensive reception with which we understand it to be every where meeting; indeed its very rarity, as the first skilful sketch that has been given of Italian society, would have ensured this, had much less talent been employed on the subject than these intelligent pages evidently manifest."

"We must say that the author has produced a very clever book, and that he has shown himself an acute observer and powerful satirist. It is evident that the best society has been open to him."—Times and Chronicle.

In 3 vols. post 8vo. price 27s.

RECOLLECTIONS of a PEDESTRIAN.

By the Author of "The Journal of an Exile."

"The light and lively sketches which fill these volumes, are evidently written by one who has not walked from Dan to Beersheba only to find all barren, but who has certainly made use both of his powers of amusement and information, in his descriptions and animated narrative."—Literary Gazette.

VIII.

In 2 vols. post 8vo. price 18s. Second Edition.

THE JOURNAL of an EXILE.

"In the perusal of these volumes we have frequently been reminded of the style and manner of 'The Sketch Book;' the same pathos, the same originality of thought, the same facility of expression. We consider this as a prelude to future excellence."—Gentleman's Magazine.

In one large vol. 8vo. with 20 plates, price 21s. plain, 30s. coloured.

FLORAL EMBLEMS. By HENRY PHILLIPS.

F.L. and F.H.S., Author of "Pomarium Britannicum," &c.

"The Landgravine of Hesse Hombourg (our late Princess Elizabeth) has been so much delighted with Mr. Phillips's beautiful work on Floral Emblems, as to be now engaged in painting from it a service of china for her own use, in which, together with a series of elegant decorations, every subject will have a distinct and intelligible meaning; this illustrious example will doubtless be speedily followed in our own country. Mr. Phillips's ingenious system being equally applicable to services of plate, and every other article on which pictorial devices are usually inscribed, as well as affording an inexhaustible source of amusement for the exercise of the fancy and the pencil."—Morning Post.

X.

In one vol. 8vo. with Portrait, price 12s.

THE LIFE OF EDWARD LORD HERBERT, OF CHERBURY, WRITTEN BY HIMSELF.

Fourth Edition, continued till his death. With LETTERS written during his residence at the French Court, now first published from the Originals.

"To those who have not already devoured this work, we can promise a rich and delightful feast; which we hope they may relish with a zest equal to that which, as we well recollect, attended our first perusal of these captivating Memoirs."—Retrospective Review.

"This is, perhaps, the most extraordinary account that ever was given seriously by a wise man of himself."—Horace Walpole.

"It is remarkable as being the first instance of auto-biography."—Burnett's Own Times.

XI.

In one vol. 8vo. price 8s.

SUSPIRIUM SANCTORUM;

Or Holy Breathings. A Series of Prayers for every Day in the Month. By a Lady.

"The spirit which pervades these solemn addresses to the Almighty, bespeaks such a sense and feeling of the blessed hopes and prospects of pure Christianity, as do great credit to the heart and understanding of the noble Author."

Quarterly Theological Review.

XII.

In one vol. post 8vo. price 10s. 6d.

CHARACTERS AND OPINIONS:

Or, the BLUE BOOK: a Series of Papers extracted by a Lady from her Album.

"These entertaining papers evince an intimate acquaintance with the usages of fashionable life, which are here discussed with much point, occasionally blended with strokes of elevated satire. A correct moral feeling prevails throughout; and, as emanating from a lady of high connexions, the work will doubtless be considered as possessing peculiar claims on the attention of the superior circles."

XIII.

In 2 vols. 8vo. price 28s.

HISTORICAL AND LITERARY TOUR OF A FOREIGNER IN ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND.

With Anecdotes of Celebrated Persons visited by the Author.

"We confidently recommend these two animated and judicious volumes. A more amusing publication has not lately issued from the press. It is full of original and sagacious observations on the manners and customs of England and Scotland. The author has made his 'Tour' the vehicle of much ingenious criticism on the state of the Arts and Sciences in England; his repeated conversations with Sir Walter Scott, Crabbe, the Scotch Literati, &c. are replete with interest."—Sunday Times.

XIV.

In 3 vols. 12mo. price 21s.

THE GIL BLAS OF THE REVOLUTION.

By L. B. PICARD.

"The 'Gil Blas of the Revolution' is a remarkable production. Its delineations bear the impress of truth and reality. By means of his versatile Hero, the author has been enabled to sketch the physiognomy, both private and public, of the various parties that fought for precedence, and successively devoured each other. This task he has executed with scrupulous exactitude and impartial truth, so that his work may be considered as offering a valuable record of the state of society during the memorable twenty-five years that intervened between the reigns of Louis XVI. and Louis XVIII."—New Monthly Magazine.

ADDRESS.

MESSRS. COLBURN, SAUNDERS and OTLEY beg leave respectfully to announce, that in consequence of the increasing nature of their concerns requiring their undivided attention, they have this day agreed, for the convenience of each, to dissolve the Partnership hitherto subsisting between them; and that in future the attention of Mr. COLBURN will be directed exclusively to the Publishing business in BURLINGTON STREET, and that of Messrs. SAUNDERS and OTLEY to the Library, Bookselling, &c., in CONDUIT STREET.

Having, in pursuance of the above arrangement, disposed of his remaining interest in the Library, &c., to his late Partners, Mr. COLBURN cannot but embrace this opportunity of presenting his grateful acknowledgments for the favors conferred on him during his connexion with the Library, the continuance of which he begs leave earnestly to solicit on the behalf of his Successors, Messrs. SAUNDERS and OTLEY, convinced, from their accustomed assiduity and attention, that no effort will on their parts be wanting to ensure to the Subscribers the utmost possible accommodation.

Having, as above stated, now become the sole Proprietors of this extensive and valuable Library, in the management of which they have been for many years actively engaged, Messrs. SAUNDERS and OTLEY beg leave respectfully to state, that it will be their constant aim to render those important advantages which they possess in an extensive collection of well-selected Books, in the various languages, and a continually accumulating supply of the new Publications, increasingly available for the public accommodation; whilst by an unremitting endeavour to render those plans still more efficient, which have hitherto been honoured with such distinguished approbation, they confidently hope to afford, to every Subscriber who may be pleased to favor them with their names, that satisfaction which has so long been known to result from the arrangements of this Library.

In referring to their Bookselling department, Messrs. S. and O. beg leave respectfully to solicit attention to their Retail Catalogue, in which the measures they have adopted, for the due discharge of that branch of their business, are more particularly described; and also to state, that, in addition to their means of advantageously supplying English publications, their connexions and intercourse with the Continent will, they trust, enable them to afford equal satisfaction in orders for Foreign works.

A large assortment of beautiful Bookbindings constantly kept for inspection, as Specimens, of the most finished varieties.
